Anonymous Calls

The following terse note from one of our reporters was on the desk recently: "An anonymous lady from Waveland called about boys shooting rifles. Said there were 49 bullet holes under pane glass window. Said for her to write letter to editor, name would not be used, (she) said paper should take up the crusade."

For one thing the Echo is not a "crusading" newspaper. It comments favorably or adversely when something happens, but it does not crusade. When it comments at all, its editor tries to know the facts. As far as he knows there is not even one bullet hole and there may be 490.

We very much appreciate news tips and editorial ideas from everyone. Even anonymous news tips can be very helpful. Due to sleepiness the managing editor didn't get the name of the person leaving us know about the fire on the L and N bridge on April 14, but we would very much like to thank him.

Anonymous phone calls of the type received yesterday are a different matter. We accept responsibility for what we say. Most anonymous callers criticize but won't accept the responsibility. In essence they are cowards.

Miss Mitchell Feted At 2nd Shower

The Youth Center drive to the fort Glover. The private dining room at Ray's Restaurant was the scene of the party.

The bride-elect selected from her trousseau a royal blue wool jersey model and received a corsage of white feathered carnations interspersed with Christmas baubles from her hostesses.

Her mother, Mrs. C. F. Mitchell, wore an aqua wool ensemble and received similar flowers.

The T shaped luncheon table was covered with white damask and centered with an arrangement of Christmas greens and red candles. Frosted pine cones, mistletoe and holly were placed at intervals along the long end of the table.

The buffet was centered with a five-branched red iron candelabra trimmed with white carnations, greenery and various colored baubles.

The hostesses' gift to the honoree was a set of costume jewelry. Attending were Mesdames Anthony Pitalo, Monroe Kimball, 20, 195, L. sanac, Albert Saucier of Pearl River, La., Monroe Cuevas Jr., John Ginn, Lawrence Kramenberger of Dover, N. J., Murray Lee Clark of Gulfport, and Miss the 19 Gaydell Cus.

Miss Mitchell was feted also on December 8 in Pensacola at a high luncheon in a downtown restaurant by the Misses Linda Crook, Shirley Young, Susan White, Angela Emmanuel, Susan Ubelack, Elaine Sibley, Sandra Duff and Marcia Green, all members of the Cheerleaders at Catholic High which were sponsored by Miss Mitchell.

For this occasion, the bride-elect selected a beige wool sheath accented with gold accessories. A pink and white motif was used to trim the luncheon table.

Circle Meets in Palmisano Home

Mrs. Anna Palmisano entertained members of the Woodmen of the World Circle 167 in her home on Ulman Avenue last Thursday at luncheon.

Miss Morreale, Mr. Garriga Exchange Wedding Vows

White and crimson chrysanthemums and white tapers adorned the altar of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church during the wedding last Saturday at noon of Miss Patricia Ann Morreale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Morreale, of Bay St. Louis, to Mr. Jerry Leo Garriga, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Garriga of Fenton.

The Rev. Bernard Haddican performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and wore an original wedding gown of ivory bouquet taffeta, featuring a scalloped neckline, molded bodice and tapered sleeves of Brussels lace. Panels of lace fell to the hemline of the gown and draped softly in the back to form a chapel train. Her candlelight veil of French illusion was attached to a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was an opal necklace belonging to her mother and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a scarlet-throated white orchid.

Mrs. Raymond Verzel of Mobile was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Margaret Garriga of Fenton, Jerry Ladner, Dolores Lee, and Janice Garriga. Their street length dresses were of crimson velvet, trimmed with marching satin cummerbunds. Crimson accessories completed their attire and they carried sculptured bouquets of white chrysanthemums, stephanotis and cerise rosebuds. The flower girl, little Miss Brenda Niolet, wore a dress

Christmas Spirit

The 5,314 Mississippi Coast Christmas Savings Club members who received $460,374.45 on Thanksgiving Day in the distribution of Hancock Bank's annual club savings, will find Christmas 1960 a much happier occasion because they planned and saved for it.

Hancock Bank, which has promoted the Christmas Savings Club idea since 1914, broke all records in 1960. Club members find this weekly saving habit an easy way to put by something regularly to meet the usual year-end commitments, to pay taxes, meet insurance premiums, start a new savings account or help spread the Christmas Spirit.

Almost anything worth having is worth saving for, and those who never save never have anything.

Many of the Bank's friends who started with a modest program of putting something by each week to take care of the year's accumulated obligations are now substantial depositors. The key to financial independence is the cultivation of the habit of saving.

There is no substitute for thrift in building one's fortunes.

In the distribution of 1960 Christmas Savings Club checks we remind our customers and depositors of our deep appreciation for their accumulating good will and continued cooperation.

Be sure the Hancock Bank will leave no stone unturned to keep improving its banking service and facilitate its operations to the end that it may help remove some of the friction that competitive business generates.

We extend a cordial invitation to you to join our 1961 Christmas Savings Club, which opened Friday, November 25. May you be among those who will find Christmas 1961 a happier event, having had the foresight to anticipate its needs. The Christmas Spirit is always a little warmer among those who are financially and fully prepared to enjoy it.

Wade Bone Fishin' Hawks

BY EDIE ENGELHORN

Looks of the weather there doesn't seem to be much good fishing this weekend. Cold and rain brought things to a standstill but some small ones were caught during the Jordan and Wolf Rivers. Nothing like the week before.

Reports of quail were reported by hunters but mostly reports of good. Duck hunters are quiet about their kill which leads to believe the duck hunters are doing all right, not just talking.

Live bait shrimp injunction

The fish dealers and fishermen in Hancock and Harrison Counties set back Monday when Chancellor William G. Hewes issued a temporary injunction sought by a group of fishing camp operators and live bait dealers to prevent the Marine Conservation Commission from putting into effect a ruling making it illegal for live bait boats to take shrimp in waters north of the L and N bridges in both counties.

The ruling makes the gathering of live bait almost impossible and the suit was instituted by them in an effort to save the business but the judge sustained a motion presented by commission attorney Dan M. Russell Jr., to exclude testimony of the fishermen and to dismiss the bill of complaint as it pertained to a temporary injunction.

The hope for those interested in live bait seems to be to follow the suggestion that the operators and live bait dealers make with the marine commission in an effort to settle their differences over provisions of the controversial ordinance.

The commission also raised questions as to the constitutionality of the 1960 seafood industry statute which was continued to the January court. Judge Hewes ruled the complainants should exhaust all legal remedies at their disposal before a hearing on the constitutionality provisions.

Hancock County fishing camp operators said they would be closed because of the ruling but no reports have been received of any closings in Hancock County. They testified they are not getting sufficient shrimp in the Mississippi Sound to supply customers and that the take of live bait dealers is so insignificant as not to menace conservation of small shrimp claimants. They had never encountered egg shrimp in inland waters.

The commission testified a thorough study had been made and the ordinance, No. 5, was necessary to protect shrimp in inland places in inland bays and waterways.

We are to say which side is right in this controversy? We leave it to the reader to decide. We have deep respect for the opinion of Chancellor Hewes. It is his business and duty to decide on these matters.

One item by a Gulfport columnist describing Sam Favre's fishing camp at Kiln on the Jordan. We were invited over three years ago by Sam Favre Jr., but never got around to it. Maybe some day, the writer describes the excellent fishing in the areas that can be reached from Favre's camp.

Pop makes a good haul

In all wind that blows no good, Wednesday morning we found a very cash box stolen so when the police arrived it was chief Raoul and Raoul Telhard whom we have been trying to catch having heard he has been loading up on specks. Raoul said he had been out Monday and Tuesday, got 30 Monday and 40 Tuesday. He was opening report of poor fishing. But then everybody says he is a pro. Says he was using a Sea Hawk with a popping bug (our favorite lure.)

Our first Christmas card of the year came from an old fishing friend, Walter Fox of Jacksonville, Fla., and Bay St. Louis. Walter is a honest-to-goodness lover of the sport and it's a pleasure to hear from him. He sends his regards to the fishing population, Maury and so on.

Our old trick has been revived to locate a school of trout. We are to string in his gills with a balloon on the other end, and the trout will follow the balloon.

Tulane Signs Jim Mayfield

Congratulations to Jim Mayfield of Waveland who signed with Tulane University in New Orleans Tuesday. We will bet all our eggs that it won't be long before Jim will be making the headlines as one of the finest Greenies yet. Jim's booting and all around play was one of the major factors in Bay High's Tigers winning the Gulf Coast Conference title two consecutive years. He is a promising young man and we predict he will go far not only in college football but in anything he undertakes.

Wosca was selected on the Louisiana Sportswriters Association All-State team this week. His daddy, Judge Wosca, is our champion for the all-time Jordan River fishing champ.

Alma Mitchell of Kiln continues to pace Mississippi State's fishing cagers. Saturday State romped over Louisiana College with Mitchell coping top scoring honors with 23.

Tourney Victors

Another trophy went in the North Central basketball collection Saturday night when the Hawks squeaked by Ocean Springs 70-67 in the St. Martin invitational tournament.

After advancing to the semi-finals the Hawks were eliminated by Vancleave's girls 42-38. Bay High's Tigerettes were also eliminated in the semi-finals by St. Martin 39-19 who went on to cop the girls' trophy by defeating Vancleave 41-31.

In another semifinal the Hawks proved too much for Bay High's Tigers to win 79-59 holding quarter leads of 25-9, 37-23 and 59-39. Douglas Necaise racked up a solid 32 points followed by Berlin Necaise with 20 and McCoy Peterson 16. Ronnie Peterson had 23 for Bay High and Marks Wilkerson 14 for the Tigers.

The Hawks had trouble with a had Ocean Springs team that pulled the upset of the tourney whipping previously undefeated St. Martin 75-48.

It was a nip and tuck affair, the lead changing hands several times during the game and the outcome was not decided until the final minutes of play when the Hawks settled down and displayed their championship form.

At the end of the first quarter North Central held an 18-16 lead but at half time it was Ocean Springs by 37-35. They maintained their lead until the final period when the Hawks got a 52-51 margin shortly after the (Cont. on Page 10.)

Rocks Eliminated After Fast Start

St. Stanislaus got off to a good start in the Gulfport Cage Tourney by beating Notre Dame of Biloxi 40-32 Friday night but lost their steam Saturday and were eliminated by the Gulfport Commodores, winners of the tournament, 44-30 in the semi-finals.

The Rock-A-Chaws also dropped a consolation game Saturday night to a strong Harrison Central five 61-50.

Winning their own invitational tournament, the Commodores re-venge their only loss of the season by licking St. Aloisius of New Orleans in the finals 46-39.

St. Stanislaus got off to an early lead over Notre Dame in the opening game but the Rebels tied the score three times in the first half. They were never able to gain the lead, however.

The Rocks were ahead 14-9 at the end of the first frame and led 22-20 at half time. They earned a 33-25 lead going into the final period.

Leading scorer for the Rocks was Pat Mashburn with 11 point followed by E. J. Babin with 10.

In the semi-finals Gulfport salted away the game in the first period ringing the hoop for 14 points while holding the Rocks to three. Stanislaus made a desperate bid in the final quarter scoring 12 to the Commodores' five but it was too late to overcome the lead piled up by Gulfport in the first three frames.

None of the Rocks were able to reach the two-figure mark. Terry Phillips was high with 6, E. J. Babin got 5, Caceres, Blaize and Chevis each got 4.

In the consolation game Stanislaus earned a 15-15 tie in whistle but the lead changed

Jaycees Lose to Picayune

A 69-yard pass play from Reuben Rutz to Henry Monti was good for a touchdown for the Bay St. Louis Jaycee Batlers but the Batlers wound up on the short end of a 7-6 score Friday night in Picayune Memorial Stadium against the Picayune Jugger-nauts.

It was the initial game of the annual Jaycees' Christmas Charity Bowl football game featuring former Maroon Tide and Bay High Tigers, ex-junior and senior college gridirers in a regulation football contest.

Both scores came in the second quarter on long pass plays, 76 yards for Picayune and 69 yards for Bay St. Louis. The difference was the educated toe of tackle James (Red) Wilson who booted the extra point to give the hosting Jaycees a 7-0 margin late in the second period.

Ex-Rock-A-Chaw J.B. Morreale returned the ensuing kick-off 15 yards to the Bay 31 after which Rutz fired his history making aerial to Monti at right half. James (Cooter) Zimmerle attempted the extra point but the kick was blocked.

Starring for the Bay squad were Dugas, Rutz, Artigues, Monti, J. Kimball, Buck Kimball, Zimmerle, Roger Reinike, Tom Logue, Andre Arceneaux, Hugh Favre, Manuel Maurigi, Bobby Bourdin, Slim Drott, Donald Strong, Billy Breland and T. J. Bourgeois.

hands several more times before the Hawks took control. Berlin Necaise got 19, Calvin Shaw 15, McCoy Peterson 16 and Douglas Necaise 12. Doug- (Cont. on Page 10.)
